M. Phil. Clinical Psychology Entrance Exam
PROSPECTUS

M. Phil. Clinical Psychology

The Master of Philosophy (M.Phil.) in Clinical Psychology is an intensive academic research program regulated by the Rehabilitation Council of India (RCI) and offered at RCI-recognised institutions across the country.

It is a two-year full-time course that focuses on theoretical principles of clinical psychology as well as ensures training with patients/clients in clinical setups. As per the Mental Healthcare Act (MHA, 2017), a clinical psychologist is required to hold an M.Phil. degree to practice as a licensed clinical psychologist at hospitals or private practices in India.

Course Type: Postgraduate

Course Duration: 2 years

Course Eligibility:

- Aspirants with a degree in M.A./M.Sc. Psychology with at least an aggregate of 55% marks.
- Students in their semester 4th of M.A./M.Sc. can also appear for the exam.
- Candidates are usually shortlisted for admission in an MPhil course based on their performance in an entrance exam followed by a Personal Interview (PI) round.
- Appearing for interview sometimes requires the student to have their degree in hand.

Note:

- The criteria may vary under different universities and hospitals. You can directly contact the websites of these institutions or contact Psychopedia for further guidance on any related query.

Students appearing for Ph.D or Professional Diploma in Clinical Psychology can apply in the same batch for preparation.
